Valley

The Golden
Years

Delaware Valley Regional High School
Frenchtown, New Jersey

Foreword

As another year unfolds, we find ourselves once more participating in the various phases of our education: academic, social, and athletic! Each phase brings us in contact with new experiences. For the freshmen, come the new experiences of pep rallies, student assemblies, six weeks' tests, and the Freshman Party. The sophomores, with one year of experiences behind them, begin to take on responsibilities such as the annual Sophomore Dance. The juniors, at last upperclassmen, realize that they have some important duties to perform: the selection of rings, a class play, and, of course, the Junior Prom. However, for the seniors, it is a year of joy and sorrow combined. They engage in many projects their final year including: dances, a trip to Washington, D.C., final exams, class night, and finally Commencement. Their "Golden Years," a very important part of their lives, will soon be over. They have scholastic achievement and fond memories to look back upon as they enter the outside world. The '62 VALLEY helps to recapture the events of the last four "Golden Years." For the undergraduates, it presents a vivid picture of but one or two of their four "Golden Years."

Miss Vera Miller

Dedication

We, the graduating class of 1962, dedicate the 1962 Valley to Miss Vera Miller.

During our high school years, she has contributed much of her own time and effort for the benefit of our class. Because of her interest in our class, she has helped to make each of our undertakings a success. As a person, she has become a close friend to the class. She is a person in whom we can confide and on whose good judgement we can rely, whether it be academic or personal.

Our class will always remember Miss Miller as the kind, understanding person that she is!

Miss Miller briefs homeroom members on coming events.

Miss Miller discusses class assignments with Dick Moore.

Board of Education

MRS. S. W. MILLER, PRESIDENT

To the Staff of the '62 Valley:

Education is not confined to formal learning. Much that we do contributes to our education. It is a never ceasing, limitless thing.

You, the Valley yearbook staff of '62, have learned a great deal while compiling this yearbook. You have struggled with the English language, expressed yourselves artistically, allowed your sense of humor to show, appraised your accomplishments and above all, learned to work with your fellowman.

The Board of Education is constantly learning too. Our aim is to give you the very best possible education. At the same time we are the guardian of a portion of the taxpayer's money. Your achievements scholastically, athletically, socially, and in any other field is our pay for hours spent establishing policy and meeting countless problems.

We congratulate each of you, who helped in any way, with the publication of The Valley '62.

Sincerely,

Evelyn R. Miller

President

To the Class of '62:

Centuries ago, the great Diogenes said, "The foundation of every state is the education of its youth." You are about to leave us. Henceforth, greater responsibilities and more exacting labors await you. Over the years your parents and your teachers have guided or directed you. All of the advantages within their power to bestow have been placed at your disposal. What you are, what you do, depends upon yourselves. If you have convictions and the courage to uphold them, if you have the determination to do as well as dreams, if you have the will to laugh at apparent failure or misfortune, then you have nothing to fear but the loss of your self respect. With that firmly yours, you cannot fail.

In years to come, it is your duty to give, rather than to receive, to share with others the bounty of your mind, to make the world better and wiser for your having been a part of it.

To you, the Class of '62, go the hearty wishes for your continued success in life. We shall miss you, but we know you have a new challenge to face, and we bid you Godspeed.

English

The English department most students never forget. We had the pleasure of giving you assignments in spelling and vocabulary, reading literature, grammar exercises, punctuation and capitalization problems, themes and compositions, and never forget Shakespeare. Then there were those research papers and book reports. The work was never done in English.

We tried to explain the meanings of philosophy, psychology, and sociology in relation to Beowulf, Ben Johnson, John Milton, and Percy Shelley. All the poetry, essays, articles, and other prose were the broad scope of writing that you will be reading and working with the rest of your lives.

Languages

The foreign language program consists of those course offerings designed to meet the foreign language needs of secondary school pupils. The program includes ancient and modern languages. The general aims emphasized in the program, according to present language usage and pupils' needs include: the development of abilities to read and write foreign languages, and to speak them and understand them when spoken. Activities stress language as a method for communication of thoughts, ideas and emotions toward the understanding and appreciation of the way of life of their people. Three year courses of Latin, Spanish, and French are offered.

Miss Margaret Carpenter

Mr. Arthur Hawk

Mr. James Ginople

Mathematics

Mathematics courses are offered to meet the various needs of students.

The fundamental purpose of the study of composite mathematics and commercial arithmetic is to develop an understanding and skill in the use of mathematics in practical applications, in measurement and finance, in personal and vocational experience.

The sequence of college preparatory courses includes algebra, plane and solid geometry, trigonometry, modern algebra and advanced mathematics. The objectives include an understanding and mastery of fundamental concepts and skills in preparation for advanced study of mathematics in college and application in scientific, industrial, economic, and social studies.

The aim of all is an appreciation of the basic role of mathematics in our modern world.

Science

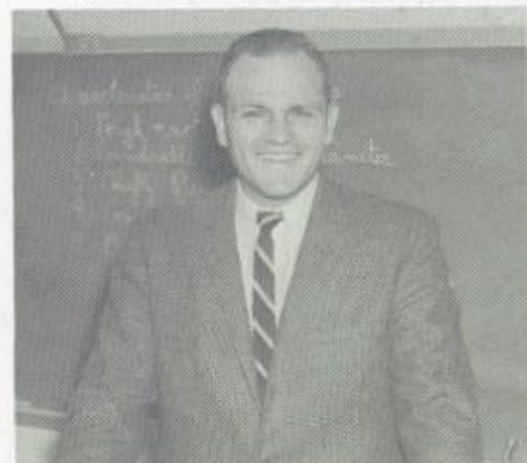

One of the fastest rising fields in the world today is the field of science. Because of the so-called "race for space," our government has placed an increased importance on the science programs in our schools. As a result, D.V.R. has increased the science program to include both earth science and general science. It also includes chemistry, biology, and physics.

Mr. Joseph Salema

History

There are four courses in history taught in our school. World History gives a background of many things studied in United States History I and II. U.S. History I and II show students how their government was formed and what problems faced our forefathers. Problems in Democracy, for seniors, prepares them for the political offices they may one day hold.

Business Education

Mr. Paul Snyder

Mrs. Hazel Hann

Mr. William Ewasko

The Business Education Department is attempting to provide a well-rounded education for those who intend to enter the business world rather than continue their formal education. In addition, business education consists of courses and activities designed to meet the common needs of all students through the development of knowledge, skills, habits, attitudes, ideals, and appreciation that contribute to successful living.

Students may select courses that follow a pattern for clerical office positions or secretarial office positions. Those selecting a secretarial sequence specialize in shorthand and typing, while those selecting a clerical position specialize in bookkeeping and typing. All students are offered background subjects, such as general business training, economic geography, business law, and personal typing.

The typists work industriously to meet speed requirements.

Physical Education

Physical Education is one of the most popular of classes. Intramural sports help to build strong bodies, as well as to develop good sportsmanship among students. Gym classes are important because they are helping to make the youth of America physically fit.

Music

Instrumental and vocal music are an integral part of our school. The band performs during football seasons and presents a concert each spring. The choir performs in assembly on special occasions, such as Christmas, Thanksgiving, and Easter. The choir also holds a concert each year.

Home Economics

Home Economics education is centered on home activities and relationships and enables the individual to assume the responsibilities of homemaking. Homemaking deals primarily with individual development activities and skills in maintaining satisfactory home life, social-family relationships, training of the young, and the intelligent use of human and material resources for the well-being of the family and community. The primary purposes in homemaking are satisfaction and efficiency in home and family living, although learning experience in this field may lead into other types of vocations.

Courses offered in the Home Economics field are:

GENERAL HOME ECONOMICS--an introduction to all areas of Home Economics.

HOMEMAKING I,II,III,--three courses given alternately over a period of three years giving an advanced study in all areas of Home Economics.

FOODS AND NUTRITION--A concentrated study of nutritional requirements, food composition, and principles of food cookery.

CLOTHING AND TEXTILES--concentrated study of clothing construction, fabrics, and social significance of dress.

FAMILY LIVING--a study of the individual and his role in successful family living.

Mr. Francis Brown

Mr. Boyden Stretch

Mrs. Edna Holcombe

There are four phases of the Industrial Arts Department. They are Wood Shop, Metal Shop, Auto Mechanics, and Mechanical Drawing.

In Wood Shop the boys are trying to develop a worthwhile interest in working with wood. They are also gaining experience in working with wood as a possible vocation.

In Metal Shop and Auto Mechanics the boys are trying to develop an interest in metal work and cars.

Mr. Brown helps Ken Johnson construct a model home.

Library

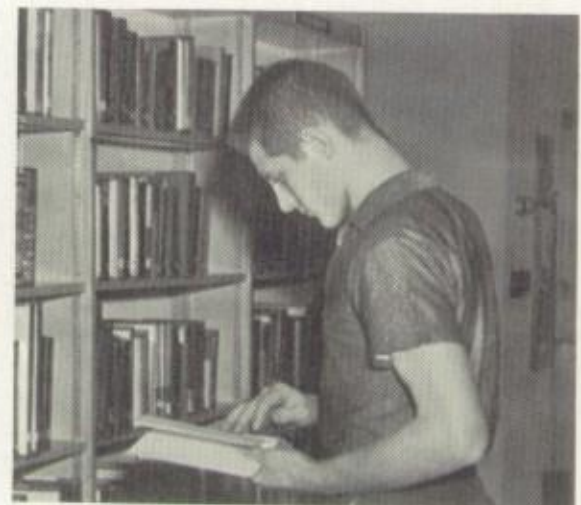

Without a doubt, the library is one of the busiest places in the school. There is probably not one student who has not used the library at some time during the year. It may have been for a research paper, for homework, or for his own enjoyment. Everyone can find something to hold his interest among the 4500 books contained in the library.

The periodical room is another important part of the library. It contains periodicals of every variety, some dating as far back as the 1930's. In them can be found information on everything, from auto mechanics to the Zebu Indians.

Still another part of the library is the audio-visual department. This department takes care of selecting films and distributing them to classrooms. It also buys record albums for the use of the students and supervises the lending of the record player and the albums.

Mr. Edward Sampson

P. Hager chooses a book for a book report.

M. Fleck serves as library monitor.

The art department has many interesting and enjoyable projects to teach students about the many phases in the world of art.

Art I students have geometric color designs and abstract designs of texture to work on.

The Advanced art students have finished problems in designing jewelry, enameling on copper and are now working on:

- Art II--Mosaic designs
- Art III--Textile designs
- Art IV--Advertising designs

Maintenance

Who is responsible for keeping our school looking as nice as it does? The maintenance department, of course. These men work after school to clean the classrooms and keep up the grounds. They also clean-up after dances, basketball games, and other school functions, and are on hand whenever they are needed.

Cafeteria

About noon-time, everyday, the delightful aroma of delicious food can be found throughout the school. For this, we owe a vote of thanks to our chef and his capable staff. Together they prepare well-balanced meals for the students at a low cost. I'm sure everyone would agree that this is one department we cannot do without.

CLASS OFFICERS

In September of our Senior Year, we chose our class officers who were to lead us during our final year of high school.

Dick Moore was elected to serve us as President, Brit Klemmetsby as Vice President, Ellen Frick as Secretary, and Ben Wright as our Treasurer.

These people have worked together with our class advisors to better our class, and they have served us faithfully.

To our class advisors, Miss Miller and Mr. Pettinelli, we owe many thanks for the help they have given us with our various class projects. They have taught us the value of thinking for ourselves as well as the advantages of organized planning and procedure. Miss Miller has worked with our class for three years. She has helped to make all of our class projects successful. Mr. Pettinelli joined our class as a co-advisor in our Junior year. During the past years, he has worked enthusiastically with our class. As we say "Good-bye" to Miss Miller and Mr. Pettinelli, we want them to know that we appreciate the part which they have played by helping us enjoy our four years together, and by preparing us for our future lives!

Student Council Engages in Many Activities

The Student Council is the voice of the student body at Delaware Valley Regional High School. Its purposes are to maintain a spirit of good will between teachers and students; to promote student government; and to promote within the students a spirit of loyalty, service and good citizenship. Any student who has an academic average of B or higher is eligible to become a member. Each member is elected by popular vote of his class.

Under the direction of Mr. Edward Burns, this year's council sponsored a foreign student under the A.F.S. program; held dances to promote school spirit; sponsored busses to away football games; honored the championship hockey team by presenting them with silver charms; sponsored a pie eating contest; and sponsored a gymnastics show from East Stroudsburg College.

Officers for the year were:

Norwegian Student Spends Year at D.V. R.

In August of 1961, Brit Klemmetsby, our foreign exchange from Norway, arrived in the United States, where she spent the year with Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Porter and family of Kingwood. Brit quickly became known around the school. She often could be seen scurrying through the halls to get to her classes on time. Week-ends found Brit an enthusiastic fan at all the football games cheering the Terriers onto victory. She was also an avid spectator at all the other varsity sports. Brit wasn't just interested in sports from the spectator angle but she also participated in them. She was a member of the girls varsity hockey team. Brit could also be found at school dances, programs, and any of the other school activities.

Brit's classmates showed their confidence in her by electing her to the office of Vice-President of the Senior Class, she also served as Vice-President of the Future Teachers of America Club. Both positions were handled well by her.

Although Brit quickly got used to American customs, she still observed many differences between the United States and Norway. Probably the most obvious of these was the school system. In Norway, high school is not required; the students do not choose their subjects, and, instead of the students moving from room to room, the teachers come to them. School lasts only to 2 o'clock, but school is in session six days a week. Norwegian students have no homework on weekends, one thing Brit felt our schools should adopt. School sports in Norway are not as prominent as they are here. Brit also found differences in our food, activities, and social life.

Without a doubt, having Brit with us has taught most of us many interesting things about Norway, just as Brit has learned alot about the U.S. We will never forget Brit and we hope she will always remember us and the year she spent at D.V.R.

National Honor Society

Almost every high school student dreams of being elected to the National Honor Society. To be a member of this organization is a sign of high achievement.

Members of our local National Honor Society must have spent at least two semesters at D.V.R., must be members of either the junior or senior class, and must keep a scholastic average of 87.5% or higher. All students who meet these qualifications are reviewed by a committee of seven faculty members and the principal. This committee then selects the members on the basis of scholarship, leadership, character, and service.

Two of the present members, Kent Willever and David Graves, were elected during the second semester of their junior year. The other members were elected during their senior year.

Good Citizenship Awards

BOYS' AND GIRLS' STATE

Each year the American Legion and Auxiliary, Post 113, sponsor one girl and two boys as delegates to New Jersey Boys' and Girls' State, held during the summer on the campuses of Rutgers University and Douglass College. This year the delegates were Kent Willever, David Graves, and Ellen Nugent. They were chosen for scholarship, leadership, service, and character.

At Girls' and Boys' State, the delegates learned about the U.S. government through lectures and discussions, and through actual participation in a model government. This will help them to become better and more useful citizens in the future.

The alternates for boys' state were Dick Moore and Jerry Fulcomer. Girls' state alternate was Florence Reid.

GIRLS' CITIZENSHIP INSTITUTE

JoAnn Bodor and Judy Porter were chosen as the representatives of the Milford and Frenchtown Women's Clubs to the Girls' Citizenship Institute, held at Douglass College during the summer of 1961. JoAnn and Judy learned much about preparing themselves to be useful and functional citizens of the future.

Both girls were selected by faculty members on the basis of scholarship, leadership, character, and service to the school. Chosen as alternates for JoAnn and Judy were Susan Senderling and Judy Tilstra.

D.A.R. AWARD

Early in 1962 the Senior Class chose Donna Ullman as the D.A.R. good citizen candidate. She was chosen on the basis of dependability, which included loyalty, truthfulness, and punctuality; service, which includes cooperation, courtesy, and consideration; leadership, including personality, self-control, responsibility; and patriotism.

As the good citizen candidate Donna spent a day in Trenton with the other D.A.R. candidates from New Jersey. Judy Porter was chosen as Donna's alternate.

Valiant

The school newspaper, THE VALIANT, is published four times a year. It is prepared and edited by students who are chosen on a voluntary basis at the beginning of each school year on the basis of leadership and ability. Through working with the Valiant the staff members learn the techniques of reporting, copyreading, writing headlines, editing and putting a paper together.

At the beginning of this school year, the staff decided, in addition to the four quarterlies, to issue bi-weekly supplements to be entitled THE LITTLE VALIANT. The idea intended was to turn THE VALIANT into more of a literary newspaper and to give talented writers an opportunity to display their ability. THE LITTLE VALIANT was to consist of gossip, all school events, and odds and ends of poetry and quotations. This year's VALIANT was headed by Sue Senderling who as Editor planned each issue with the aid of the two advisors, Mr. Hammond and Mr. Viglione.

Valley

Working on the yearbook is not all fun.

This yearbook is the final result of much hard work done throughout the school year.

Along with the advisor, Mrs. Falcinelli, the staff members worked hard after school day after day to publish this book. Their only reward is the satisfaction of having published a successful book.

Making layouts, checking copy, going over pictures, and proof-reading articles were just a few of the many jobs done by the staff. They also sponsored the Christmas Ball, "Snow Ball," held on December 22, 1961.

Florence Reid and her staff worked hard to secure advertisements from local merchants. They gave up many free afternoons in order to secure ads or boosters.

Before you is the achievement of hard work and fun combined. We only hope that yearbook staffs in the future will enjoy producing a yearbook as much as we have.

Literary Guild

The Literary Guild, a new club this year, started to promote reporting and creative writing in the members and to encourage and increase the knowledge of all forms of writing within the student body.

Within this group there are three divisions: Pro-Seminary, which give the students a chance to get individual help from Mr. Keagle, our advisor; Newspaper reporters, who write the "Doings of Delaware" column for the Delaware Valley News; and, the radio commentators, who write up their own scripts for "Hunterdon Hop" which is broadcasted from Washington, New Jersey.

To become a member of the D.V.R. dance band a student must show that he has talent and some musical knowledge. Members try out new arrangements of old and popular songs. They can often be heard after school rehearsing in the music room.

The D.V.R. dance band appears in assemblies and occasionally they play after home basketball games to add enjoyment and fun to the school activities.

Delaware Valley's choirs have done outstanding work in the many phases of music. Broken down into two groups, a girls' and a boys' choir, all members, under the direction of Mr. Pettinelli, join together to present various programs during the year. Annual productions are given at Thanksgiving, Christmas and Easter. Going over the scales is a part of each meeting of the boys' and girls' choir. Members are aided in improving their voices and taught to harmonize to the old standard tunes.

Marching Band

The D.V.R. marching band has long been hailed by all as one of the best in the area. From long hours of practice came the routines and intricate formations that delighted the crowds. At every game the band presented both pre-game and half-time exhibitions, and also accounted for a major cheering section to boost the team on to victories. When football season ended, practice sessions were devoted mainly to concert music. In the spring, Mr. Petinelli presented the Annual Band Concert, which much to his satisfaction was a great success.

From hard practice came this routine.

Hi-Teens

The purpose of the Hi-Teens is that our girls may learn to "find and give the best." By giving each freshman a Junior or Senior "Big Sister," Hi-Teens also brings a closer relationship among girls of all grades.

Members take part in the many fun-filled and serious activities which are planned by the advisor, Miss Carpenter, and the Cabinet.

Included in these activities are religious programs, holiday parties, talent shows and the Annual Mother and Daughter Banquet, held each spring.

The most meaningful program to all Hi-Teens is the induction of officers and new members. At this ceremony, the new members light their candles and join the "Circle of Light." As Miss Carpenter says, "Once a Hi-Teen lights her candle, she keeps the glow of the flame in her heart through life."

Future Teachers

The Future Teachers Club meets weekly with their advisor, Mrs. Townsend. The officers are: President, Judy Porter; Vice-President, Brit Klemmetsby; Secretary, Ruthann Adams; and Treasurer, Sherry Cyphers. The activities include programs by the various classes, lectures by guest speakers, discussions, and sometimes, games. The high point of the year is a trip to one of the colleges in the area. This year the trip was to Douglass College. Out of this group will come, we hope, the teachers who will mold the minds of future generations.

Future Nurses

The Future Nurses Club of Del-Val has, for the first time has been chartered to the National Future Nurses Club of America. The members of the club sponsored a bake sale to benefit the March of Dimes. They also took a course in Home Nursing from which they received a Red Cross certificate. In April the Future Nurses participated in an assembly intended to acquaint the student body with the purposes of the Club, what it has accomplished this past year, and what it hopes to accomplish in the future. Mrs. Gilbert, the advisor, had secured several professional nurses to speak to the girls on the different aspects of nursing, thus giving the club members an idea of what is involved in Nursing.

The membership of the French Club is made up of students who desire to learn more about France. With their advisor, Miss Quick, they study the various customs of France, and see slides and films which show how the French people live. They all agree that the French Club has added much to their knowledge of France.

Spanish Club

One of the new clubs this year is the Spanish Club, under the supervision of Mr. French. The members play Spanish games, and they also learn about Spanish-speaking countries through slides, pictures, and lectures. Everyone enjoys this club and learns many interesting things.

P. Fritsche, Mr. French, J. Erck, E. Oakes, S. Anderson, A. Fritsche.

Latin Club

The Latin Club has two Consuls. This year they are Bill Stem and Harry Segletes. These boys work with their advisor, Miss Miller to plan programs for the group. They play Latin games and listen to individual reports given by various members of the club. The goal of the Latin Club is to learn more about life in Ancient Rome and to just have fun.

Art Club

Some of our more artistic students who want to learn more about art are the members of the art club. This interesting program, under the direction of Mr. C. Strauss, deals with various media. Charcoal, oils, water colors, enamels, finger paints, and ceramic clays are a few of the types of art which are used by the members. Anne Fritsche served as president during the year.

Knitting Club

The Knitting Club is a new organization that is designed to give the girls' interested in learning to knit the opportunity to do so. Mrs. Hann, the advisor and instructor of our Knitting Club, said that the group has no officers, but is organized as a social group. All meetings are informal and a lot of fun.

SEATED: J. LaRue, Mrs. Hann, Advisor, S. Baker. FIRST ROW--S. Jack, G. Schroth, R. Adams, S. Krewson. SECOND ROW--S. Gernhardt, M. Heisel, C. Lance.

Boys' Intramurals

Each year an opportunity for boys and girls to participate in various sports is given in the intramural programs. They are divided into groups according to their interests. Besides learning the rules of each sport, members are also taught good sportsmanship and how to play together as a team.

Cheerleaders

Who was responsible for cheering our teams onto victory? Certainly, our cheerleaders were always out in front leading cheers to encourage team members.

Under the capable leadership of Mrs. Hill and varsity captain, Anne Fritsche, these eight vivacious girls led the fans at all Football and basketball games, as well as the pep rallies. With the arrival of basketball season, the Junior Varsity cheerleaders had a chance to display their talent. With Karen Sommers as their captain, they faithfully supported our J.V. basketball team.

Office Secretaries

The office secretaries are a group of ambitious girls who give up a free period in order to aid Mrs. Godown and Mrs. Sigafos in the office.

These girls perform various duties. They can often be found typing, filing, running errands, sorting mail, or any other numerous task usually carried out by a secretary.

This experience will be of a help to the girls in the future.

Student Librarians

Our student librarians this year, as in past years, have worked hard "behind the desk" of our ever growing Del Val library.

Under the supervision of Mr. Sampson, our librarians can be found doing a number of things. They can check our books, collect fines for overdue books, type new catalog cards, put books away in their proper places, or any other numerous jobs.

Our student librarians work hard and deserve every bit of credit they get.

Junior Class Presents "Come Out of the Closet"

Three girls from Ohio--eager, excited, and hoping to establish careers in New York--are compelled by circumstances to rent an old gloomy run-down apartment from a tigerishly greedy landlady on their first night in town. And what a night it turns out to be!

The characters were as follows:

Mrs. Malone--Florence Reid (an Irish landlady)
Hilda Hawkins--Mary Kerr (a stenographer from Ohio)
Irene Gleason--Doreen Taylor (her friend)
Ammonia Mullins--Flora Stamets (Mrs. Malone's maid)
Jenny Potts--Ellen Frick (winner of a television contract)
Guthrie Rosewater--Danny Pinkerton (a "modernistic" poet)
Abbie Phillips--Anne Fritsche (a maiden lady)
Mr. Cutter--Fred Scholtz (from the apartment across the hall)
Hercules Jones--Ed Morris (A modern knight whose "shining armor" is a beat-up old taxi)
George Hansen--David Graves (Irene's fiance)
Sweeney--Arnold Larsen (definitely a non-typical policeman)
Director--Mr. Ralph Carl

"Someone else is in here--besides me."

"Okay, okay, I have you."

"Oh, both of you are so brave."

"You'd better come out or else."

"Take that you rude daughter."

"I don't want to go."

Senior Class Presents "Oh Father"

Poor Father! Somedoby's always in his pocket. If it isn't parasitic cousin Rebecca, it's his spoiled daughters. But a man like William Baynard can take only so much and P-F-F-T! He's apt to throw in a bomb.

Right in the midst of family serenity bursts the news that father plans to give up his lucrative bank presidency and accept a small-salaried job in an Iowa College. What a blow that news proves to be!

The cast was as follows:

Mrs. Helen Baynard--Marla Fleck (a very lovely lady)
Annette--Ellen Frick (her pretty daughter)
Lucile--Mary Kerr (her clever daughter)
Elizabeth--Doreen Taylor (her artistic daughter)
Rebecca Baynard--Letha Cooper (a dour, opinionated cousin)
Miss Rogers--Judy Porter (a school principal)
Charlotte King--Dorothy Barshak (an art teacher)
Mrs. Warren Austin--Judy Aber (a wealthy bibliophile)
Sarah Kincaid--Anne Fritsche (newspaper friend of Annette)
Theodora--Peggy Knight (the Baynard's colored maid)
William Baynard--Danny Pinkerton (father)
Director--Mr. Ralph Carl

"Isn't it beautiful?"

"Stardust"

Kent Willever, President of the Junior Class, crowns Beverly Phillips Queen of "Stardust."

On May 19, 1961, Junior Prom night, the stars twinkled brightly. When arriving, couples passed under an arbor, decorated with lilacs, into a starlit garden symbolizing the theme of the prom, "Stardust." At one end of the room was a huge yellow moon and six beautiful stars. As they walked to their tables, the couples could hear the music of "Stardust," played by the Collegiates. As the evening progressed, door prizes were awarded, and finally the big moment arrived! Midnight brought the coronation of the queen. Reigning were queen, Beverly Phillips, and King, Ed Nonnemacher. The surrounding "stars" were: Lois Godown, Sandra Hann, Sandra Walters, Karen Hartpence, Donna Wieder, and Linda Rich, who comprised the queen's court. At the conclusion of the Prom, many couples completed a wonderful evening by attending the progressive dinners held at various homes.

Snow Ball

Santa crowns Louise Bidwell as Snow Ball Queen.

On December 22, 1961, the VALLEY staff held their annual Christmas Ball. This year the name was "Snowball." The decorations depicted a snowy winter scene. In the middle of the floor stood a beautifully decorated Christmas tree. Late in the evening Santa arrived to perform a special deed. This was to crown our "Snowball" queen. He drew the queen's name from a stocking containing the names of all senior girls attending. The name drawn was Louise Bidwell's, who then reigned as queen. About 250 Del Val students attended and enjoyed dancing to the music of Vince Pettinelli and his orchestra. As the evening ended, everyone remarked that they had a wonderful time.

Carolyn Larsen holds an animated conversation with Santa.

Bob McCrea and Bob Berka receive help from their dates in pinning on their boutonnieres.

7-2 Record for Terriers in '61
The Terriers fought hard this year trying to uphold their undefeated season of 1960. They finished, however, second in the Central Jersey Group I. Florence and Hunterdon Central were the only schools to defeat the Terriers. School spirit and team spirit was very high and seemed to go hand in hand in driving the Terriers to victory. The co-captains were Dave Brown and Kenneth Volk, both outstanding members of the team.

The crowd cheers the team on to victory.

This year the Freshman Football team was the largest since the instillment of this phase of athletics five years ago. The main purpose for freshman football is to teach the boys the fundamentals of football. For without fundamentals one can not engage in this lively sport. For the first time, this year's team defeated Hunterdon Central's freshman football team. This was the one game they all were proud and happy to win.

good wrestler. He put stress entirely on the skills rather than the brute strength usually associated with wrestling. If a person has the ability or skill of a good wrestler, he does not have to be stronger than his opponent.

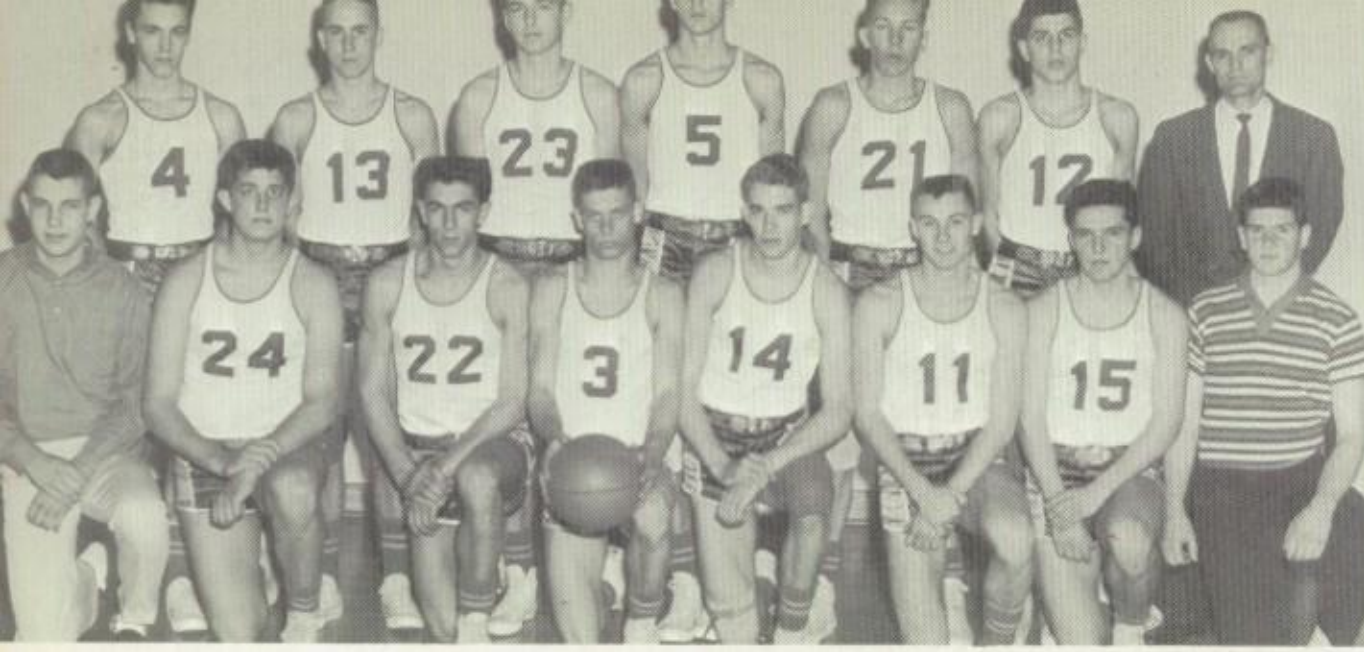

Since there are many weight groups in wrestling all interested in this sport can participate.

Mr. Viglione was very satisfied with our first year of wrestling.

This year we only had two matches, one with North Hunterdon Regional and the other with Hopewell Township Central High Schools.

Basketball Wrong for Basketball blues hit D.V.R. this year. With many valuable losses from last year's team, Coach Hill had the task of rebuilding his team this year. Each game brought more experiments by Coach trying to discover which five boys played best together. However, an apparent solution was not easy to discover. Graduation will not take many from the team. The number, four, is small but this loss will be missed next year. Seniors leaving will be Willie Fritsche, captain, who played basketball during his four years in high school. Other seniors are Richard Moore, Ronald Osmun, and Robert McCrea.

Although the team won only one game they are to be congratulated for the spirit they had during the entire season. We just hope next year's team will fare better.

Frenchtown High School

The book which looks back over the memories of our "Golden Years" has come to an end. On behalf of the staff I would like to thank everyone who helped to publish it. I would especially like to thank the following people:

Mrs. Regina Falcinelli who as our advisor worked faithfully with us, giving us extra help when needed.

Mr. Lou Espositio who served as our representatives to The American Yearbook Company and who also gave us helpful suggestions.

Miss Shirley and the photographers from Lorstan Studios, especially John.

Mr. Keagle who always helped us in a time of need.

Mr. Lee Hill who helped us greatly with our decorations for the Christmas Ball in order to make it the success that it was.

The entire faculty who graciously relinquished their class time in order to have pictures taken.

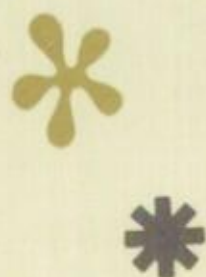

The merchants and residents of the community for donating ads and boosters.

The members of the senior class who, although not on the staff, served us faithfully.

To everyone else who helped to make the publications of this book possible. THANKS!
